With our Keymacro application, you can assign the buttons on your keyboard to functions of your choice. First, you need to configure the keys, then assign the function to each of them. This function allows you to save the configuration to the Keymacro database, so you can activate it later by simply choosing the program you want to launch and selecting the new keyboard layout. Keymacro provides you with a variety of menus, each specialized on a different function. For example, the effects menu allows you to add or remove reverberation, apply the EQ, compress and boost the volume, change the balance between left and right channels, as well as apply the reverb to your guitar sounds. You can modify the sound of your instruments and vocalists in an easy way.

Moreover, the effects menu provides you with the option to apply noise or white noise, to enhance the sound or simply decrease it. You can also create custom filters that modify the sound based on the selected sound sample. Keymacro provides you with a variety of sample files, that you can use to design your own sounds. Once you create the filter you want to use, you can select the sample and apply it to your vocals, sounds, guitars, drums or piano. Once you are satisfied with the sound, you can save it to your database. The program can load the filter you designed at any time by choosing it from the menu. The function to move the sound along the keyboard is provided with a variety of sounds, including pianos, drums, vocals, guitars, strings, horns, etc. You can choose to fade the sound from the beginning or the end of the track, in case you want to split your song in two parts. You can edit your audio files directly from your USB device. With our Wave MP3 Editor, you can record your song and process it with the various functions you want, edit tags and preview the results. Once you are finished with the modification, you can simply click on “Save” to close the window and save your file, as well as save the custom configuration to the Keymacro database. Included with Keymacro are over 2,000 sample recordings, as well as several sound effects. KEYMACRO
